Dear John Rennie Families,

The first few days of school have been busy ones for our new and returning students as they get used to their new surroundings and grade levels, as well as having experienced 3 fire drills.

Next week, the administrative team will formally welcome students in our annual level assemblies where students will learn about upcoming activities, academic support, dress code, and general expectations.

At this point, we ask that you please take the time to review the school's Code of Conduct, which is included in the school agenda, with your child, as it features important topics that are essential to a good school year. Additionally, Sport-Études students should also familiarize themselves with the Sport-Études Handbook, and that can be found on the school website (<http://johnrennie.lbpsb.qc.ca>).

Thank you.
